

For Executors - Detailed Step-by-Step Instructions on How to Apply for Probate in Manitoba

- STEP 1 Find the Will. Find the deceased's signed original will (not a photocopy). It is likely either among the deceased's personal papers or with his or her lawyer or trust company. Sometimes people give their executor a copy of their will and a letter or memo with additional information about their wishes.
- STEP 2 Find the Affidavit of Execution. Check whether there is a Form 74F Affidavit of Execution of Will or Codicil with the will. (If this was not signed at the time the will was executed, you will have to contact one of the witnesses who witnessed the will and have the Form 74F affidavit sworn by him or her before applying for probate.)
- STEP 3 Consider who should serve as the executor(s). There may be more than one person named as executor in the will. Now is the time for executors to consider renunciation. Executors should consider whether they are willing and able to act as executors. Joint executors should consider whether it would be preferable that one person only act as a single executor, due to the possible inconvenience of acting as joint executors (particularly where one executor lives outside of Manitoba). Executors must be unanimous in their decisions unless specified otherwise in the will. If one of the co-executors lives outside Canada he or she may have to post a bond and should consult a lawyer for advice about possible tax implications relating to the residence of trusts.
- STEP 4 Decide whether you should see a lawyer about the estate. Review the terms of the will and its form, and assess whether there are any potential problems or issues that would make it necessary or desirable to consult a lawyer. (See Probate Guide -Read this First – When this guide should not be used)
- STEP 5 Get the Probate forms and fill them out. You will need copies of the forms you must file with the court.
- Pre-printed forms are available at the Court office, but there is a fee.
- You can get the forms online at the Province of Manitoba website.
- You can fill in the forms on computer and print them out, or print the forms and fill them out in handwriting. If you are filling them out by hand, print neatly in pen.

Cross out any information that does not apply.

Use only one side of the paper.

Use figures for dates, numbers and sums.

The forms come together in a package. You will need The Request for Probate Set http://web2.gov.mb.ca/laws/rules/forms_e.php?set=1

Grant of Probate set

Includes:

- 74A Request for Probate of Will
- 74B Inventory and Valuation of the Property of the Deceased
- 74C Affidavit in Support of Request for Probate
- 74F Affidavit of Execution of Will or Codicil (this should be with the will)
- 74J Probate (you will need 2 copies)
- 74O Renunciation
- 74T.1 Affidavit of Execution of Renunciation

You will only need Forms 74O and 74T.1 if an executor is not able or willing to act and is renouncing.

STEP 6 Find out what assets exist and form part of the estate. Review the will and personal papers of the deceased, including any instructions and list of assets he or she may have left to you as executor, the contents of his or her safety deposit box, and bank statements, Find out what assets exist but are not specifically named in the will by discussing this with the deceased's spouse, accountant, employer and financial institutions.

STEP 7 Consider survivorship provisions. The court cannot grant probate until seven days after the death of the testator (unless a judge otherwise directs). A will may also contain a clause that extends the amount of time that the executor must outlive the testator before applying to probate the will.

STEP 8 Begin preparing Form 74B Inventory and Valuation of the Property of the Deceased. Assess the value and nature of the assets and determine whether the will must be probated. Only property that is in the deceased's name alone should be included, unless there is a joint bank account that the deceased intended to be included in the estate.

If the estate assets are worth $10,000 or less, you can apply for an "Order under Section 47 of The Court of Queen's Bench Surrogate Practice Act"

STEP 9 Prepare the forms that you need to file at court

Forms to Prepare and File at Court

Review the Probate precedents that apply to this section for help in filling out the forms.

74A Request for Probate of Will

This is a simple form that:

- asks the court to grant probate,
- identifies the deceased,
- asks for the deceased's marital information,
- says when the will was signed, and
- asks for information on the executor or executors, including place of residence and occupation.

All executors' information must be included and all executors must sign the form.

Make sure that the full legal names of the testator and executors are used. If anything, other than the full legal name was used in the will for either the testator or executors, add a line that explains this. For example, if the testator's legal name was James Potts, but in the will he was called Jimmy Potts, write: "James Potts (shown in the will as Jimmy Potts), late of the City of Winnipeg..."

74B Inventory and Valuation of the Property of the Deceased

Do not include jointly held real or personal property. Only property that is in the deceased's name alone should be included, unless there is a joint bank account that the deceased intended to be included in the estate.

If you find out after you apply for probate that other assets exist that you did not list, you can file an amended valuation within 30 days of the discovery, and pay the additional fees required at that time.

Any "right of action" that the estate has should be valued at $1.00 and then amended later, if necessary. If you include a right of action, you must also provide the court with a letter stating that you will provide an amended inventory once the value is determined and that you will pay the additional probate charge at that time.

The value of property for probate or administration purposes is the fair market value of the property minus any incumbrances (for example mortgages). Show only the net value.

Do not include life insurance or RRSPs payable to named beneficiaries – only include these if they are payable to the estate.

Note: Be aware that any interested person or the court can inquire further into the assets of the deceased, and the executor may have to provide the additional information. The rules that govern this are QBR 74.06.1 (1) - 74.06.2(3).

74C Affidavit in Support of Request for Probate

This affidavit is to show the last will is being submitted by you and to say that you have included all the assets on the valuation and that you will account to the court or beneficiaries if required to do so. This document must be sworn or affirmed before a Commissioner for Oaths or Notary Public. You can find a Commissioner for Oaths or Notary Public in the Yellow Pages under Commissioners for Oaths or Notaries Public.

74J Probate (2 copies)

This is a very straightforward document. Fill in the details about the testator, date of death and testator's occupation and your name (and the other executors' name(s), if applicable). Leave the Judge's name and the date blank. You will need two copies to file in court.

In addition to these forms, you must also bring:

The executed (signed) original will with affidavit of execution

If the affidavit of execution was not signed at the same time as the will, an affidavit will have to be prepared and signed now by one of the witnesses to the will. A witness to a will cannot swear the Affidavit of Execution of a will.

If neither witness can be found, an affidavit should be prepared that lists the efforts made by the executor to find the witnesses and obtain proof that the signature on the will is that of the testator.

The Commissioner or Notary must mark the will as an exhibit to the executor's Affidavit in Support of Request for Probate and to the Request for Probate. The executor must sign the will to identify it. The wording is "This is the last Will and Testament of (testator's name)" "(executor's name), Executor (for identification purposes)".

Two photocopies of the executed original will (not including the affidavit of execution)

If any executor is renouncing his or her appointment, you must also fill out:

Form 740 Renunciation

Form 74T.1 Affidavit of Execution of Renunciation

When an executor decides not to act as an executor, that executor must prepare and sign the Form 740 Renunciation Form in the presence of a witness.

That witness must sign a Form 74T.1 Affidavit of Execution of Renunciation, which must be sworn before a Commissioner for Oaths or a Notary Public.

74G Affidavit of Plight and Finding

You will need this form if there are any marks on the will that were aimed at modifying the contents – extra words written in, things crossed out, alterations, etc. and not initialed by the testator and the two witnesses.

These changes would not be included in the probate, unless an affidavit in Form 74G is prepared and signed by the executor that states they existed in the will prior to its execution, or by republication of the will or execution of a codicil. See a lawyer, or get some legal advice at this point.

Also, if suspicious circumstances exist and it looks like someone has tried to obliterate something in the will, probate will not be granted until all such matters have been explained to the satisfaction of a judge. In this situation, see a lawyer or get legal advice.

In Case of a Holograph Will or Codicil

A holograph will or codicil is a will or codicil written totally in the testator's own handwriting and signed at the end by him or her. A holograph will does not need a witness.

In order to probate a holograph will or codicil, an Affidavit in Form 4D (also available online or at the court office) must be prepared and sworn by a person who is familiar with the testator's handwriting and signature. In the affidavit this person says the writing and signature is the testator's, and that at the time of the writing of the will or codicil, the testator was over 18, and that he or she appeared to be of sound mind, memory and understanding.

STEP 10 Go to the Court of Queen's Bench and file the forms.

You do not need to make an appointment. Just go to the Court of Queen's Bench Office nearest where you live with the documents and filing fee.

Estate matters at The Court of Queen's Bench in Winnipeg at 408 York are dealt with in Room 100C. (This is just a section of the long counter where all incoming matters are handled. As you enter the court, turn right and look for the sign that says Wills and Estates).

You will take a number for service and then a clerk will take your forms and fees and they will be reviewed and dealt with by Court staff and a Master or a Judge.

If your documents are not in the proper form they may be rejected. In that case you will have to pay a $5.00 Rejection Fee.

STEP 11 Receipt of Grant of Probate

Once you receive the Grant of Probate you will have the authority to deal with the estate assets held by various institutions. Some institutions may require a notarial copy, and also may require a death certificate.
