ABOUT THIS GUIDE

This guide is for people in Manitoba who need information on enforcing Court Orders for child or spousal support or parenting arrangements.

It contains explanations about the options that are available to a person who is having difficulties enforcing the terms of a Court Order or agreement.

While the guide is intended for parents who have a Parenting Order or agreement or a Court Order for financial support, it may be useful for parents who do not have a Court Order or agreement, but who have informal parenting arrangements.

This guide also recognises that there are other parties such as grandparents who may have Contact Orders allowing them time with the children. Those persons will also find this guide useful.

This guide is for information purposes. It is not intended to provide legal advice. You should talk to a lawyer about your specific circumstances.

HIRING A LAWYER

Although you can represent yourself in court, it is best to be represented by a lawyer if you are having difficulties enforcing a Court Order. A lawyer can give you legal advice and represent you in court if necessary, explain the options you may have in enforcing your Court Order and explain the legal process to you.

In some cases, for example, if your Court Order for financial support is registered with the Maintenance Enforcement Program (MEP), the program will enforce your Court Order without any payment from you.

The Child Support Service is a program that is offered by Manitoba Justice to those parents with child support orders. If there is a change in the income of the parent who is paying child support, the service allows for the amount of child support payable by that parent to be reviewed and recalculated. If your Court Order does not provide for the Service to be used you can apply through the court for the Service to be used. The Child Service Office can be reached at 204-945-2293 or toll free at 1-800-282-8069 (Ext. 2293) or by email: CSRS@gov.mb.ca

If your child has been abducted, the lawyers at the Family Law Section, Legal Services Branch of Manitoba Justice may be able to help you have your child returned to you. They can be reached at 204-945-0268 or toll free 1-800-282-8069 (Ext.0268).

Community Legal Education Association has a Law Phone-In & Lawyer Referral Program that provides general legal information and advice over the phone. They can also provide you with a referral to a lawyer who will advise you in an interview for up to 30 minutes free of charge. The Law Phone-In & Lawyer Referral Program can be reached at 204-943-2305 or toll free 1-800-262-8800 (from outside Winnipeg only), by email: info@communitylegal.mb.ca or by using the following link to contact them by email: <https://www.communitylegal.mb.ca/contact/>

This guide will indicate when it would be best to consult a lawyer.

GLOSSARY

Central Authority - In Manitoba the Central Authority for The Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction is the Manitoba Department of Justice. Canada and each province and territory has its own Central Authority. Central Authorities are responsible for managing The Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction.

Court of Queen's Bench Rules – Regulations that set out the rules and forms of the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench, including how forms and evidence must be presented to the court.

Court Order for financial support – This is a legal document from a court which states parties' rights and responsibilities about financial support.

Decision-Making Responsibility – A parent's ability to make certain major decisions about their child's well-being, such as education, religion, and health. This responsibility is often laid out in a Parenting Order or agreement.

Designated Officer – The person at the Maintenance Enforcement Program who is responsible for your file if your Court Order or agreement is being enforced by the Maintenance Enforcement Program.

"Habitual residence" This is the jurisdiction where a child normally lives. It is a term used in The Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction.

Maintenance Enforcement Program – A government agency in Manitoba that enforces Court Orders or agreements for the payment of financial child and/or spousal support.

Parenting Order – This is a legal document from a court which states parties' rights and responsibilities about parenting.

Parenting Time – The time a child spends in the care of a parent. It includes time spent not directly under a parent's supervision, such as school hours. How much parenting time each parent gets (and sometimes when they get it) is set out in a Parenting Order or agreement.

Payee or Support Recipient – A person who receives financial support payments through the Maintenance Enforcement Program.

Payor – A person who makes financial support payments through the Maintenance Enforcement Program.

"Reciprocating Jurisdiction" - This is a jurisdiction with which the government of Manitoba has an arrangement for the reciprocal registration and enforcement of support Orders. Reciprocal jurisdictions include the provinces and territories in Canada and several other countries. A Support Order from a reciprocating jurisdiction can be enforced in Manitoba and a Support Order from Manitoba can be enforced in the reciprocating jurisdictions. A list of reciprocating jurisdictions is on page 11.

The Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction – This is an international treaty that Manitoba has implemented. It applies between countries where the Convention is in force. It provides for the return of a child (under 16) wrongfully removed from their habitual (usual) residence or wrongfully kept in another country, where the parent left behind has a right of custody.

ENFORCEMENT OF CHILD SUPPORT AND SPOUSAL SUPPORT ORDERS

THE MAINTENANCE ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM

Sometimes, even when there is a Court Order for the payment of financial support, the person who is supposed to make the support payments does not pay the amount that they agreed to pay or were ordered to pay or they do not make any payments at all.

This section will provide information about enforcing Court Orders for financial support. You may have a Court Order or agreement for the payment of child support or spousal support or for the payment of both child and spousal support.

In Manitoba, if you have a Court Order for the payment of financial support (child or spousal), a government agency called the Maintenance Enforcement Program (MEP) can collect the money that is owed to you under the Court Order and send that money to you, provided that the program's requirements have been met.

If you are the recipient of support payments, you are known as the payee. The person who is making the payments is known as the payor.

The MEP can collect ongoing support payments that are to be made periodically or in a lump sum. The MEP can also collect any arrears of financial support.

If the payor has not been making the support payments set out in the Court Order and the Order has been registered with the MEP, the MEP can enforce the Order and make sure that the support payments are collected and sent to you. The MEP will take steps to enforce the Order or Agreement on your behalf.

If a payor is not making the payments as set out in the Court Order or agreement that has been registered with the MEP, MEP has many options to collect the payments.

If you are registered with the MEP, you should provide the MEP with any information that would help them collect the support payments that are owed to you. Information such as the payor's address, if there has been a recent change of address, information on any property that the payor may own, if the payor has any income or any additional sources of income and information about bank accounts would all help the MEP in collecting the support payments.

The MEP is represented by lawyers at the Family Law Section, Legal Services Branch of Manitoba Justice who will appear in court to deal with enforcement of support when MEP decides that this is an appropriate step.

The MEP cannot change the amount of support that is being paid. However, as of July 1, 2019, The MEP can administratively suspend enforcement of a support order when there has been a change in the payor's financial circumstances, either a permanent reduction or a change in finances because of illness, medical issue or temporary loss of income. MEP can also stop enforcing support for an adult child, unless the child is still dependent because of illness, disability or other reason such as going to school, university or college. The payor would have to submit a Child Support Enforcement Eligibility Review Request form.

REQUIREMENTS FOR REGISTERING A COURT ORDER OR SEPARATION AGREEMENT WITH THE MAINTENANCE ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM

In Manitoba you can have any Court Order for financial support registered with the MEP. The Court Order may have been granted under The Family Maintenance Act, The Inter-Jurisdictional Support Orders Act, The Child and Family Services Act or The Divorce Act.

Registering a Court Order that has been granted by the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench

If you have obtained your Court Order for financial support from The Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench, the Order will be enforceable by the MEP. If your Court Order states that it will be enforced through the MEP a copy of the Order would have been sent to the MEP by the Court.

Registering a Separation Agreement with financial support terms

You may have a Separation Agreement which says that financial support is to be paid. The MEP can enforce the financial support terms of that agreement if the agreement states that the financial support terms will be enforced through the MEP.

If the parties to a Separation Agreement with financial support terms would like those terms to be enforced through the MEP, they must both consent and agree to file the Separation Agreement with the MEP or the terms of the Separation Agreement must state that it will be enforced by the MEP.

If the terms or some of the terms for financial support in a Separation Agreement are vague, or the specific amount payable per month for a special or extraordinary expense (like swimming lessons) are not stated or a percentage is stated, the MEP may not be able to enforce the Separation Agreement.

You should talk to a lawyer if you are not able to have the provisions for financial support in your Separation Agreement enforced through the MEP.

Registering a Financial Support Order from outside of Manitoba

If you have an Order for financial support from outside of Manitoba, and you wish to have it enforced by the MEP, you must ask the MEP to open a file. The MEP will register the Order with the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench under The Inter-Jurisdictional Support Orders Act. The Order will then be enforceable in Manitoba by the MEP. If the Order is made under the Divorce Act, by a court in another province or territory, the MEP can register the Order with the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench under the Divorce Act and enforce it.

You may contact a lawyer or the Family Law Section of Manitoba Justice if you have questions about registering your out of province Court Order.

PROCEDURE FOR REGISTERING A COURT ORDER OR SEPARATION AGREEMENT WITH THE MAINTENANCE ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM

A form called a Maintenance Information Form (Form 70W) or a form that states that the parties do not wish to have the Order enforced by the MEP, a Maintenance Enforcement Opt-Out Form (Form 70X), must be included with the first Order that includes support provisions when it is filed with the Court of Queen's Bench.

If the parties to a Court Order have opted out of their Court Order being sent to the MEP it cannot be enforced through the MEP. At any time, the payee may choose to opt in to enforcement by signing an opt in form and completing a registration package.

If you want to register your Court Order or Separation Agreement with the MEP, you will be asked to provide information including the following documents to the MEP:

- The Court Order for financial support from a Manitoba court or from outside of Manitoba. Either from another province/territory in Canada or another country.
- A notarized copy of your agreement that states clearly that financial support is payable.
- Form 70W – The Maintenance Information Form – (see page 24)
- Maintenance Authorization to Opt in Form
- Identification Form
- Direct Deposit Form
- Fax and Email Authorization Form
- Statutory Declaration, containing information about whether there are arrears.

You should contact the MEP office if you would like a registration package. You can also get registration documents on the MEP website at:

What happens after your Court Order or Agreement has been registered with the Maintenance Enforcement Program

After a Court Order or Separation Agreement has been registered with the MEP, the person in charge of your file (the designated officer) will tell the payor in writing that the Court Order or agreement is being enforced by the MEP and that support payments should be made through the MEP.

MAINTENANCE ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM ENFORCEMENT POWERS

The MEP can work with employers, banks and the provincial and federal governments to collect support payments on a payee's behalf. They can:

- Garnish a payor's wages
- Garnish a payor's bank account(s)
- Garnish other income or payments, for example, Employment Insurance Benefits, Pension income, GST rebates
- Seize and sell a payor's property
- Suspend a payor's driver's licence
- Suspend or deny a payor's passport
- Have a defaulting payor who has arrears attend "Show cause hearings" – This means that the payor has to go to court and tell the Judge why the Court Order for financial support should not be enforced. The Judge may grant an Order for the payment of arrears, or make an Order for incarceration against the payor.

Not all enforcement actions will be appropriate in all cases. The designated officer has discretion to decide which actions are necessary or advisable for the purposes of collecting support payments.

ENFORCING A COURT ORDER WHEN THE SUPPORT AMOUNT NEEDS TO BE CHANGED

The MEP can only collect the support payments that are outlined in a Court Order or agreement. If you or the other parent need to change the support amount, you can get a new Court Order by making an application to the court.

Varying a Child Support Order

If you need to make a change in the child support amount that is outlined in a Court Order you may need to file a Notice of Motion to Vary child support. You should speak with a lawyer about varying the Court Order.

The following documents need to be prepared and filed:

1. A Notice of Motion to Vary child support - Form 70H (See sample on page 27) or a Notice of Application to Vary child support - Form 70G of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules.
2. An Affidavit in support of the Notice of Motion to Vary child support or Notice of Application to Vary child support in accordance with the Court of Queen's Bench Rules. (See sample Affidavit on page 30)
  - The Affidavit must contain the information outlined in Rule 70.37 (5) of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules:
    - Date of the last child support order
    - Date when child support was recalculated
    - Residence of the parties and children
    - Current parenting arrangements
    - Current support arrangements
    - Proposed change to support
    - Any change in circumstances since the order was made

- Financial circumstances of the parties when the support order was made and copies of the financial statements that were filed
    - Any arrears
    - If forgiveness of arrears is being asked for – financial information including tax returns for each year for which arrears are being asked to be forgiven.
  - A copy of your current Child Support Order must be attached to the Affidavit.
3. A Financial Statement in accordance with Form 70D (See sample on page 32) of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules and a Demand for Financial Information in accordance with Form 70D.1 (See sample on page 41)

Note that the Child Support Service is available and this allows your Court Order to be recalculated under that service, if there is a change in the income of the parent who is paying child support. If, however, there are other changes that are required to the child support order, for example, to arrears of child support or for any other changes, you will need to file a Notice of Motion to vary child support.

Varying a Spousal Support Order

If you need to vary a Court Order for Spousal Support you should consult a lawyer. There are specific factors that must be established before a court will allow a Court Order for Spousal Support to be varied.

Enforcing a Court Order that has been varied

After you have received a new Court Order varying the child support or spousal support amount, that Order can be enforced by the MEP.

INTER-JURISDICTIONAL ENFORCEMENT OF FINANCIAL SUPPORT COURT ORDERS

If your Court Order for financial support has been granted in Manitoba, it can be filed in another Canadian province or territory or another country and enforced in that jurisdiction, provided it is in a reciprocating jurisdiction. A reciprocating jurisdiction is a Canadian province or territory or another country which has an arrangement with Manitoba that they will work together to ensure that financial support payments are collected. Court Orders for financial support that are granted by courts in reciprocating jurisdictions are enforceable in Manitoba.

A Support Order made outside of Manitoba and registered in Manitoba by the MEP under The Inter-Jurisdictional Support Orders Act can be enforced in Manitoba through the MEP.

If you have a Court Order from another reciprocating jurisdiction the MEP can register that Order with the Court of Queen's Bench in Manitoba and it will be enforceable in Manitoba.

You should contact the MEP if you have a Court Order from another Canadian province or territory or from one of the countries that is a reciprocating jurisdiction. Manitoba has arrangements with the following reciprocating jurisdictions:

Reciprocating Jurisdictions:

All provinces and territories in Canada	All states in the United States and:                      American Samoa                      District of Columbia                      Guam                      Puerto Rico                      U.S. Virgin Islands	United Kingdom:                      England                      Northern Ireland                      Scotland                      Wales
Other countries in Europe:                      Austria                      Czech Republic                      Germany                      Guernsey, Alderney &amp; Sark                      Isle of Man                      Jersey                      Malta                      Norway                      Poland                      Slovak Republic                      Switzerland	Countries in Africa:                      Ghana                      South Africa                      Zimbabwe	Countries in Asia:                      Hong Kong                      Singapore Other countries:                      Australia                      Barbados                      Fiji                      New Zealand                      Papua New Guinea

Enforcing a Court Order if the payor lives outside of Manitoba

If you live in Manitoba and the payor lives outside of Manitoba, for example in another Canadian province or territory, the MEP may contact the maintenance enforcement office where the payor lives to have them enforce the support payments. The MEP will send all the necessary documents, including your Court Order, to the program where the payor lives. MEP provides information and works with the program where the payor lives so that program can collect and enforce support payments pursuant to their laws. The payments will be sent by that program to the MEP which will then ensure that you receive the payments.

If the payor lives outside of Canada, then the MEP may be able to help collect your support payments, if the payor lives in a country that is a reciprocating jurisdiction as noted on the preceding page. If the payor lives in a country that is not a reciprocating jurisdiction, you may want to contact the Family Law Section of Manitoba Justice ISOQuestions@gov.mb.ca. If they are not able to help, you may need to hire a lawyer in the other country.

You should contact your designated officer at the MEP if the payor is planning to move outside of Manitoba.

Enforcing a Court Order where the payee lives outside of Manitoba

If the payor lives in Manitoba, but you live outside of Manitoba the maintenance enforcement program where you live will provide the required information for collecting financial support, including the Court Order or the agreement, to the Manitoba MEP. Your Court Order or agreement will then be registered with the Manitoba MEP and the payments will be collected and sent to the program where you live, which will then forward them to you.

Enforcing a Court Order where both parties live outside of Manitoba

Generally, if you have a Court Order or agreement for support that is being enforced by the MEP and both you and the payor no longer live in Manitoba, then the MEP will close the file. You will need to register with the maintenance enforcement program in the jurisdiction where you live. However, the MEP will continue to administer a file if the MEP is enforcing the payment of support payments, for example, from the payor's income or assets in Manitoba.

OPTING OUT OF THE MAINTENANCE ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM

The person who is making payments to the MEP cannot decide that they will no longer pay through the MEP.

Generally, the person who is receiving the financial support payments can decide to no longer participate in the MEP. You would need to advise your designated officer if you choose to opt out of the program. You should consult a lawyer if you are considering changing how you receive support payments.

If you receive income assistance through the Employment and Income Assistance Program of Manitoba or a similar program in another jurisdiction, the support payments you receive may have been assigned to the Employment and Income Assistance program and the support payments may be owed to that program. You may not be able to opt out of the program. You should contact your designated officer or a lawyer through Legal Aid if this applies to you.

ENFORCEMENT OF PARENTING ORDERS

Any parent who shares parenting time of their child has the following options if the other parent does not follow those parenting arrangements.

- Out of court resolution through negotiation or mediation
- Applying to court to vary the Parenting Order
- Civil remedies by filing an application under The Child Custody Enforcement Act, The Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction or a Notice of Motion for contempt proceedings
- Criminal charges under the Criminal Code of Canada

Generally, parenting arrangements are easier to enforce if you have a Parenting Order. If the other party to a Parenting Order has breached any of its provisions, you should talk to a lawyer about your options. However, there may be more urgent situations (for example, where the other parent is taking the child from Manitoba without your permission) where you should contact police immediately.

You will decide on the best course of action to take depending on how your parenting rights have been denied and how serious the situation is.

ENFORCEMENT OF A PARENTING ORDER OR AGREEMENT THROUGH NEGOTIATION OR MEDIATION

If your child has not been returned after the other parent had parenting time and you have a Parenting Order or agreement you may be able to resolve the matter by entering into negotiation or mediation with the other parent. You can consult a lawyer who may be able to speak with the other party's lawyer to work out a solution.

You may be able to enter into mediation with the other party. If this takes too long, consult a lawyer. A free mediation service is provided through Family Conciliation Services. In Winnipeg they are located at 2nd Floor - 379 Broadway, Winnipeg MB R3C 0T9. They also have offices in Winnipeg, Brandon, Dauphin, Thompson, The Pas, Flin Flon and Swan River. The telephone numbers for the offices can be found on page 63.

ENFORCEMENT OF PARENTING RIGHTS WHERE THERE IS NO COURT ORDER

If you do not have a Court Order and the other parent is not allowing you to have parenting time or decision-making responsibilities, it will be more difficult to enforce your rights.

You should talk to a lawyer about applying for a Court Order.

You can also use mediation and negotiation if the other parent is willing to work with you to resolve the dispute.

ENFORCEMENT OF A PARENTING ORDER WHERE THE TERMS ARE VAGUE

If you have a Court Order but the terms for parenting time or decision-making power are not clear you should consider changing the Order to make the terms specific. A Court Order with specific terms is easier to enforce.

If you need to make a change in the parenting arrangement that is outlined in a Parenting Order you should speak with a lawyer about varying the order.

The following documents need to be prepared and filed:

1. A Notice of Motion to Vary in accordance with Form 70H (See sample on page 46) if the proceeding was started in or transferred to Manitoba or a Notice of Application to Vary in accordance with Form 70G of The Court of Queen's Bench Rules if the order was made in another province under the Divorce Act.

2. An Affidavit in support of the Notice of Motion to Vary or Notice of Application to Vary in accordance with The Court of Queen's Bench Rules. (See sample Affidavit on page 49)
  - The Affidavit must contain the information outlined in Rule 70.37 (2) of The Court of Queen's Bench Rules.
    - Marital or relationship status of the parents
    - Residence of the parents and children
    - Parenting arrangements
    - Proposed changes
    - Support and proposed changes
    - Arrears
    - Change in circumstances since the Order was made.
  - A copy of your current Child Support/Parenting Order must be attached to the Affidavit.

ENFORCEMENT OF A COURT ORDER THROUGH CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

If you have a Parenting Order and the order is not being followed by the other parent, you have the option of bringing a Notice of Motion for Contempt against that parent. This is a civil action and is started by filing a Notice of Motion (Manitoba Queen's Bench Rule 60.10).

Motions for contempt are rare. If the other parent is not complying with the provisions of your Court Order it may be best to just use other ways to enforce the Parenting Order such as mediation or negotiation or applying for a variation or an order under The Child Custody Enforcement Act.

The option of filing a motion for contempt should only be used as a last resort after all reasonable steps have been taken to make sure that the other parent complies.

You should speak with a lawyer about the circumstances in which you should consider filing a Notice of Motion for contempt.

REQUIREMENTS FOR FILING A NOTICE OF MOTION FOR CONTEMPT

If you wish to file a Notice of Motion for contempt you must make sure that the following requirements are satisfied.

- The Parenting Order must be clear. If you are alleging that the other party breached the parenting arrangement terms, those terms must be specific. For example, if the order says "parenting time as the parties may agree" or "reasonable and liberal parenting time" the court may not be able to find the other party in contempt. Those terms are too vague to be enforceable.
- The other party must know the details of the Parenting Order. You must provide evidence that they were served with a copy of the Parenting Order.
- The Notice of Motion must provide details of when the party did not follow the Parenting Order and you must have personal knowledge of those details.
- The other party must have intentionally not complied with the Parenting Order.

Contempt should only be used as a last resort after all other ways to get the other parent to comply have been taken.

PROCEDURE FOR FILING A NOTICE OF MOTION FOR CONTEMPT

If you need to file a Notice of Motion for Contempt, the following documents need to be prepared and filed with the court:

- A Notice of Motion, Form 70Q of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules - A sample form can be found on page 55.
- An Affidavit, Form 4D in Support in accordance with the Court of Queen's Bench Rules. A sample form can be found on page 58.
- The Notice of Motion and Affidavit must be personally served on the other party.

You should speak with a lawyer who can advise you about proceeding with a motion for contempt.

POWERS OF THE COURT IF A PERSON IS FOUND IN CONTEMPT

If the court finds that the other parent is in contempt of the Parenting Order it has the discretion to make Orders including the following:

- Specifying additional parenting time.
- Make an Order for counselling/parenting courses.
- Reimbursement of expenses incurred, where parenting time has been denied.
- Payment of costs.
- Payment of a fine.
- Imposing a suspended sentence - the guilty party will be placed on probation where they will have to follow several conditions for a period of no more than 3 years.
- Imprisonment of the party in contempt.

The party can purge the contempt by apologizing to the court.

ABDUCTION IN CANADA: CRIMINAL JUSTICE OPTIONS

If one parent takes, detains or conceals his or her child under age 14 from the other parent, that parent may be charged with abduction under the Criminal Code of Canada, whether or not there is a Parenting Order.

What to do if your child has been abducted by their other parent in Manitoba

If your child, who is under 14, has been abducted by the other parent, and you are living in Manitoba, you should do the following:

- Call a lawyer and call the Winnipeg Police Service Communications Centre at 204-986-6222 or the Missing Person's Unit at 204-986-6250. If you are outside of Winnipeg you should contact the police service in your area or the RCMP detachment. The police will investigate the matter and consult with the lawyers at Manitoba Justice. If it is an emergency (for example the other parent is on the way to the airport with the child), call 911.

The police in Manitoba can only lay a charge in Manitoba if the child has been abducted in Manitoba. If, for example, you agreed the other parent could take your child to another province or territory but the other parent is refusing to return the child to Manitoba, a charge cannot be laid in Manitoba. You should contact the police in that province or territory.

ABDUCTION CHARGE WHERE THERE IS A PARENTING ORDER

If you have a Parenting Order and your child under the age of 14 has been abducted in Manitoba by the other parent, the Criminal Code of Canada provisions in section 282 (1) may apply. You can call the police who may consider laying charges.

After an investigation, the police may consider laying charges if they are satisfied that the following circumstances apply:

- Your child is under the age of 14 years and has been abducted.
- You have a Parenting Order granting you parenting time with your child
- The person who has taken the child is legally entitled to care for the child.
- The person who has taken the child is in breach of the Parenting Order.
- The person who has taken the child has done so intentionally to take the child away from you.
- You did not consent to the child being taken by the other person.
- The person who has taken the child knew that there were parenting arrangements set out in a Parenting Order.

ABDUCTION CHARGE WHERE THERE IS NO PARENTING ORDER

If the other parent abducts your child (under 14) in Manitoba and you do not have a Parenting Order, you can still call the police who may investigate and consider laying charges if:

- Both parents are entitled to care for the child (under Manitoba law both parents are presumed to be entitled to care for their child if they have lived together at any time after the child's birth).
- You have a written parenting agreement.
- You have a Parenting Order that has been granted by a court outside of Canada.
- The person who has taken the child has done so intentionally to take the child away from you.
- You did not consent to the child being taken by the other parent.
- The abduction occurred in Manitoba.
- The Manitoba Attorney-General consents to lay the charge.

Note that a child cannot consent to be taken. Therefore, the parent who has abducted the child cannot say that the child agreed not to go back to the other parent or did not want to go back to the other parent (section 286 of the Criminal Code).

However, it is a defence to a charge of parental child abduction if taking/detaining the child was necessary to protect the child or the person taking the child from danger of imminent harm.

ENFORCEMENT OF PARENTING ORDERS THROUGH THE CHILD CUSTODY ENFORCEMENT ACT

The Child Custody Enforcement Act includes provisions to assist with enforcement of a Parenting Order.

The Child Custody Enforcement Act of Manitoba provides the following:

- It allows an application to the Manitoba court to enforce provisions of a Manitoba or extra-provincial Parenting Order and for the return of the child (section 6).
- It allows an application to enforce parenting time under a court order where parenting time has been wrongfully denied or has not been properly exercised (section 14.1(1) and (2)).
- It allows the Manitoba court to make an order for a child to be located/apprehended for enforcement of a Parenting Order (section 9(1)).
- It allows the Manitoba court to make an order to provide the court with information about the child's whereabouts to enforce a Parenting Order (section 13(1)).
- It allows the Manitoba court to make orders to make it easier to enforce a Parenting Order by using preventative measures (for example posting a bond, delivering the child's and parent's passport and travel documents to the court or another named person (section 10(3)).

Enforcement of a Parenting Order that was granted outside of Manitoba

If your Parenting Order was granted outside of Manitoba, you can make an application to the Manitoba Court of Queen's Bench to make that order effective in Manitoba. However, if the court has evidence that the child was not habitually resident in the place where the Parenting Order was granted it may choose not to recognise that order.

If you have a Parenting Order from outside of Manitoba, the court also has the power to grant a new order if it is satisfied that the child was not habitually resident in the place where the Parenting Order was granted but instead was habitually resident in Manitoba or you and the other parent normally live in Manitoba (section 4 (1) of The Child Custody Enforcement Act).

The court will not enforce the order if there is concern that doing that would cause the child serious harm.

PROCEDURE FOR FILING AN APPLICATION FOR ENFORCEMENT OF AN EXTRA-PROVINCIAL ORDER UNDER THE CHILD CUSTODY ENFORCEMENT ACT

If you are applying under The Child Custody Enforcement Act to enforce a Parenting Order, or for an order to locate, apprehend or get information, you will need to prepare and file the following:

1. A Notice of Application in accordance with Form 70E of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules.
2. An Affidavit in accordance with Form 4D of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules
3. Supporting documents, for example, a copy of the Parenting Order.

Enforcement of a Manitoba Order

If you are being denied parenting time even though you have a Parenting Order, or if your child is taken from you in breach of your Manitoba Parenting Order, you may apply for an order for return /to locate/apprehend/get information about your child's whereabouts. If parenting time is denied or is not being exercised, the court may order the defaulting parent to reimburse the other parent's costs or require supervised parenting time (section 14.1).

PROCEDURE FOR FILING AN APPLICATION UNDER THE CHILD CUSTODY ENFORCEMENT ACT TO LOCATE/APPREHEND, GET INFORMATION WHERE THERE IS A MANITOBA PARENTING ORDER

To apply under The Child Custody Enforcement Act to enforce a Manitoba custody/access order, you must file the following:

1. Notice of Motion in accordance with Form 70Q of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules;
2. An Affidavit in accordance with Form 4D of the Court of Queen's Bench Rules.

If you have a Manitoba order and your child was taken to another province/territory, you need to consult with a lawyer in that other place to determine how to enforce your Manitoba order. You may need to apply to court in the other province/territory.

INTERNATIONAL CHILD ABDUCTION: OPTIONS UNDER THE HAGUE CONVENTION ON THE CIVIL ASPECTS OF INTERNATIONAL CHILD ABDUCTION

The Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction (The Hague Convention) is an international treaty. Manitoba has implemented this treaty. It applies where a child has been abducted by his or her parent and taken to another country where the treaty is in force between both countries.

If your child has been taken out of Canada without your permission, contact police immediately. You can find out whether the country where your child has been taken has signed The Hague Convention by checking The Hague Permanent Bureau website: www.hcch.net or contacting the Family Law Section of Manitoba Justice. They are located at 1230 – 405 Broadway, Winnipeg, MB, R3C 2L6. Their telephone number is 204- 945-0268 or toll free 1-800-282-8069 (Ext 0268), email: flb@gov.mb.ca

The Hague Convention does not apply if a child has been abducted from one province or territory in Canada to another province or territory in Canada. The Child Custody Enforcement Act will apply to those situations.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MAKING AN APPLICATION FOR THE RETURN OF A CHILD UNDER THE HAGUE CONVENTION

You can consult the Central Authority for Manitoba, at the Family Law Section of Manitoba Justice about making a Return Application in the other country if all of the following circumstances apply:

- Your child has been taken from Canada without your consent OR the child is being wrongfully kept in another country without your consent,
- Your child is under 16 years of age,
- You have parenting rights of your child either through a Court Order or agreement,
- Your child is “habitually resident” in Canada.

If you are making a request for the return of a child under The Hague Convention, it is very important that your request is made as soon as possible after the child has been abducted or taken from Canada. This is important because the return of a child could be more difficult if more than one year has passed since the child was taken from Canada. The court in the country where the child has been taken can refuse to have the child returned to Canada if the court finds that the child has become accustomed to living in the new country.

Note that if a court in the other country hears your Application, that court will only decide whether your child should be returned to Canada. The court will not make any decisions on parenting arrangements.

PROCEDURE FOR FILING A RETURN APPLICATION UNDER THE HAGUE CONVENTION

If it is decided that an application for return is appropriate, the Central Authority will help you assemble and transmit the documents required by the foreign country's Central Authority. You will have to provide:

- Copies of orders concerning parenting arrangements,
- Marriage certificate,
- Birth certificate,
- Copies of child's and the other parent's passport,
- Photographs,
- Contact information.

POWERS OF THE COURT REGARDING AN APPLICATION UNDER THE HAGUE CONVENTION

The Hague Convention states that, generally a child who has been removed from their "habitual residence" (the country where they usually live), should be returned to that country. After the child is returned to the country where they usually live, the parents can then address the parenting dispute in that country, based on what is in the child's best interests.

The Hague Convention states that there are some circumstances under which a child who has been taken from one country to another in breach of a Parenting Order or agreement does not have to be returned to that country. These circumstances include:

- If you agreed that the child could be taken out of Canada
- If there is a risk that the child could be harmed if they were returned to Canada
- If your child does not want to return to Canada and it is agreed that they are old enough to state their opinion.

PROCEEDINGS WHERE A CHILD HAS BEEN TAKEN TO A COUNTRY WHERE THE HAGUE CONVENTION IS NOT APPLICABLE

If your child has been taken to a country where The Hague Convention does not apply or you do not wish to or cannot pursue a Return Application under The Hague Convention, you should do the following:

- Consult a lawyer. You may be able to find a lawyer in the other country who may be able to help you.
- Get the assistance of a mediator or family or friends who may be able to help with the return of your child.
- Consult the Central Authority for Manitoba at the Family Law Section of Manitoba Justice.
